

ABOUT US

For over thirteen years SONA Technology has been at the forefront of plasma air purification.

We have serviced a wide array of diverse industrial clients, from waste-water treatment plants, casino's and commercial factories.

In recent years, SONA has taken big steps into the intersections of air purification and botany, and studying how our proprietary technology may be able to assist agricultural industry. Our team, through extensive research and development, has been working with legalized cannabis cultivation sites (indoor and greenhouse) in Arizona.

LET'S GROW TOGETHER

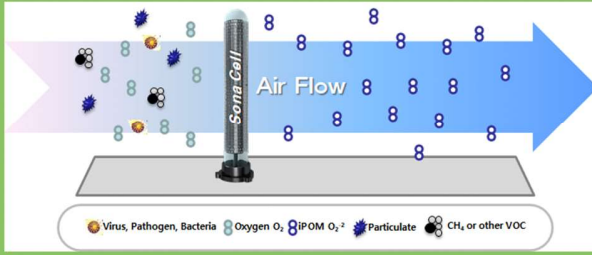

SONNABIS

Science
Of
Natural
Air

- SONA Technology converts oxygen molecule (O₂) to ion (O₂⁻ and O₂⁻²) by adding electron(s) to improve indoor air quality

- NO filters,
- NO chemicals,
- NO Residuals,
- NO Byproducts
- Uses oxygen, nothing else
- Neutralizes pathogens, virus, mold, and bacteria
- Breaks down VOC's & odors at the molecular level
- Does not generate heat with Cold Plasma Technology

- Each SONA unit covers 200-250 sq. ft.
- Low energy consumption (12 Watts)
- Small footprint (10" x 8" x 20")

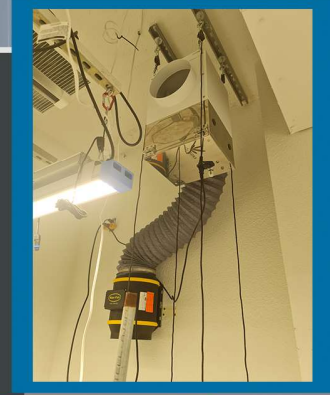

OUR TECHNOLOGY

The data our team has collected for the last two years speaks for itself:

BENEFITS for Cannabis Cultivation

- Average of 33% increase in bud and trim weight
- Fewer number of plant deaths in mass production
- Increase in level and variety of terpenes
- Increase in THC concentration levels
- 25% increase in wet weight, despite prevalence of pests such as aphids
- Zero observed disturbances or anomalies in the plant cultivation environment due to the installation of SONA units
